PHOENIX, ARIZONA

WE dedicate this 1933 Phoenician to Mr. L. A. Eastburn toward whom this school has a deep sense of gratitude for the personal interest he has shown in each student and in each student's program of studies throughout his high school years :: ::

I hope you continue to get along in school like you have this year

THERE is a saying in Arizona that once a person has lived in the desert he will never be contented away from its spell. The desert has a beauty of its own, a majesty and a grandeur, enhanced in Arizona by the history of an early people and their cliff dwellings, Indian mounds, and canals they have left behind. Anyone who has ever looked across the sand towards the Superstition mountains, will never forget Arizona.

Or it may perhaps be the mountains and snow of northern Arizona which attract the visitor with some of the most rugged scenery in America.

But it is not of this primitive side of Arizona, beautiful as it is, with which we deal in this Phoenician but with the changes brought about by irrigation—the flowering of the desert when the water from a tremendous system of dams and waterways flows over the sands. And it is literally a flowering desert for thousands of acres so fertile and so level they hardly need working, abundant water, and the ever warm climate make plants grow almost visibly from day to day.

So much has the desert bloomed that oasis-like cities of the state have spread the fame of Arizona throughout the nation until it has come to be considered a Paradise on earth where flourish all the fruits of the tropics and of the East. It has become the winter home of thousands of people attracted by its ever sunny days and natural beauties.

And so we have chosen as our theme "The Flowering Desert." Most symbolic of this subject, the horn of plenty appears on our cover surmounted by the ever present Arizona palm tree. The art work in the book represents phases of the various Arizona industries which owe their prosperity to irrigation. The snap shot pages, to carry out the theme, contain actual photographs of the subjects discussed at the end of each section of the book. And finally, we have shown in the pictures above the beauty of the Arizona desert and the contrasting beauty which has resulted from irrigation.

Much of Arizona's agricultural wealth can be attributed to the exporting of cantaloupes, watermelons, and muskmelons to eastern states. Our cantaloupes are unsurpassable by those grown in any other district. It is due to the quality rather than the quantity of these fruits that such large dividends can be realized. Sunny Arizona days tend to develop them more quickly, and the watermelons and muskmelons are raised from carefully picked seeds, thus assuring their size and sweetness. About 700 acres of these fruits are now under cultivation in this state, but this industry has interested capital and is being developed at a high rate of speed.

With a climate and humidity favorable to the growing of olives, Arizona will, without a doubt, claim a leading place in the United States for their production. There are, in fact, few other locations in the world where this fruit may be grown as successfully.

The raising of olives is not an easy task. If they are to flourish, irrigation, sun, humidity, and good soil must abound, and pickings must be made at correct times of the year. The resources found in Arizona which are necessary for the production of olives are by no means fully utilized at present, and there appears to be a remarkable future in store for the local olive industry.

Arizona's list of products also includes strawberries, blackberries, and raspberries. Although their production is not large at present, it is increasing yearly.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

LEE LOWERY
President of Student Body

FOR NINE YEARS student government has been an important factor in school affairs of P. U. H. S. The center of this government is a board of control, the members of which are elected by the students. This student governing group is composed of a faculty adviser, the student body president and vice-president, the boys' and girls' secretaries, the Girls' League and Boys' Federation presidents, the four class presidents, a boy and a girl representative from each class, and the three student managers.

The board meets every school day of the year in order to discuss problems of discipline and questions of interest to the school in general. Several new regulations have been made during the last two years which have greatly increased the attendance records of the school. If a student makes a grade of one or two in the subject and has no tardies or absences against him, he may be excused from his semester final examination. Each student is allowed two excused absences per semester, under the new ruling of this year. If a student makes a grade of three in a subject, he may be excused from his examination upon recommendation of his teacher.

Lee Lowery, this year's student body president, has done very well in executing his duties as head of the board of control. He has been a prominent member of the student body throughout his entire high school career, having served as president of his class during his freshman, sophomore, and junior years. Other officers this year were Louise Shoemaker, vice-president; Phyllis Elliott, girls' secretary; and Bill Gray, boys' secretary. Mr. Loyd Elliott is the faculty adviser.

The three student body managers are in charge of many of the school activities. Carl Trimble as this year's athletic manager assisted the athletic coach and prepared the grounds for athletic games. Otto

Janssen served as this year's dramatics manager. He was in close touch with the dramatics, debating, and publications advisers. Sam Hearn as social manager took charge of all the social activities of the student body, including the student body dances held once each semester.

The home room groups are important factors in the student government. They meet each day for a period of 30 minutes and are made up of either all boys or all girls with men or women advisers, according to the makeup of the group. The purpose of the home room group is to give the student more personal attention than he receives in his daily classes. The boys' groups organize teams and compete in intramural contests in the four major sports, which are held during the respective sport seasons. At Christmas time many of the home room groups adopt families to care for as their Christmas project while others assist with the Christmas party held each year by the student body for the children of Phoenix.

In 1931 Supt. E. W. Montgomery organized the Fifteen club, which has for its purpose the increasing of school spirit and the encouragement of co-operation between the faculty and the students.

Through this organization it has become easier to secure leadership for certain particular activities of the student body. The members of the club with their two advisers, Mr. E. W. Montgomery and Mr. William S. Stone, meet the visiting teams and their supporters and welcome them in behalf of the Phoenix Union high school student body. The meetings of the Fifteen club are held once every week, on Friday afternoons, at which time new activities are planned.

The Traditions committee was organized in the school year of 1926-27 for the purpose of encouraging old traditions, instituting new traditions, and to acquaint the students with the customs which have been a part of the yearly school routine for so many years that they have become traditions. The Traditions committee also fosters school loyalty and student co-operation.

The Traditions committee is composed of the board of control, two boys from each class appointed by the president of the class and two girls from each class appointed by the girl representative.

The duties of this committee are to examine carefully any proposed activity and discover its worth and its faults. They then decide whether it is to become an established tradition of P. U. H. S. The activities which are brought under its scrutiny are school plays, class picnics, assemblies, and other school activities.

THE GIRLS' LEAGUE is composed of every girl attending P. U. H. S. Its officers meet each week in the Central Council.

Members of this years' Central Council are Nathalie Colvocoresses, president; Harriett Wilkinson, vice-president; Elsiemae Browning, secretary; Elinor Brown, treasurer; Dorothy McKay, social chairman; Catherine Forbes, program chairman; Jean Dendinger, standards chairman; Rachel Williams, big and little sister chairman; Betty Lane, service chairman; Halberta Hiner, activities chairman; Eleanor Jeffrey, B Square Beacon editor; Sibyl Baker and Barbara Wilkinson, sophomore representatives; Frances Pinnell and Julia Preston, freshman representatives. Dean Ethel Rosenberry is the faculty adviser.

The purpose of the Girls' League is to promote a friendly feeling among all the girls of P. U. H. S. The social activities of the League include the following: several teas given in order to acquaint the new girls with the school; the Christmas party at which all the girls work together to bring Christmas cheer to some of the poor families of Phoenix; the annual girls' vaudeville, the members of which are selected from the entire Girls' League; and the Everygirls' dinner which is given each spring to provide a general get-together for all girls.

This year the Valley Federation of Girls' Leagues, which includes Phoenix, Glendale, Mesa, and Tempe, took in Scottsdale as a new member. Two other meetings of the Federation were held during the school year. Nathalie Colvocoresses and Miss Rosenberry represented P. U. H. S. at the annual Girls' League convention held in Eagle Rock, California.

Another important factor in the Girls' League are the hostesses who keep the halls in order and give information to new students and visitors. These units were directed this year by Charlie Ruth Roughton.

The Middy Board is another important unit of the league. Its duty is to check and keep a record of all girls out of uniform. Dorothea Peper was head of the board this year.

The Girls' League was unfortunate this year in losing two of its officers. Helen Trayan, who was elected secretary, and Sue Blackwell, who was made program chairman, left Phoenix. These two offices were later ably filled by Elsiemae Browning and Catherine Forbes.

BOYS' FEDERATION

THE BOYS' FEDERATION includes all the boys attending Phoenix Union high school. It was organized in the year 1929-1930 in order to promote good feeling and bring about a closer relationship among the boys of the high school. The faculty adviser of the Federation is Mr. William S. Stone, dean of boys.

The officers of the Boys' Federation are Martin Spalding, president; Bill Kajikawa, vice-president; and John Hazelett, treasurer. Since John Redfield left Phoenix, Davis Beauchamp was elected to complete his term as secretary.

The main purpose of the Boys' Federation is to increase the standard of conduct for the boys in the class rooms, in the halls, and on the school grounds. It also helps maintain a high standard of sportsmanship and encourages clean athletics. The Federation endeavors to assist all boys with their school problems, particularly those having financial difficulties. During the year it sponsors several assemblies.

Each year an All-Boys' dinner is given in the high school cafeteria, and the boys' vaudeville, Mor Folies, is presented to raise funds that the Federation may help those students needing books and clothing.

An executive board is formed at the beginning of each school year. Members of this cabinet for this year were Jack Clark, Don Pinnell, and Dick Koontz, seniors; Billy Allen, Homer Matthews, Frances Shaughnessy, juniors; Paul Adams, Earl Douthitt, sophomores; Jack Lindstrom, Bob Mulleneaux, freshmen. The cabinet meets several times each year with the Girls' Council in order to discuss problems of interest to the entire school.

The Coyote Club is an important part of the Boys' Federation. It includes all the boys on hall and ground duty, and its purpose is to keep order and give information in the halls and on the grounds.

The Fifteen club is another organization sponsored by the Boys' Federation.

The club has ex-officio members and its membership includes only the boys holding leading offices in the school. The members are the presidents of the four classes, the president of the student body, the boys' secretary of the student body, captains of the four major sports, football, basketball, baseball, and track; president of the Coyote club, president of the Letterman's club, president of the Boys' Federation, and commanding officer of the R. One of the important factors in making Arizona known throughout the United States is its remarkable gardens which are colorful all the year around.

Almost every country house has its own garden, many of which are terraced and landscaped. Japanese gardens, rock gardens, and rose gardens are all popular with Phoenix residents, and the palm-lined streets and green winter lawns add to the dignity and the beauty of the city. Many winter tourists have become so attached to the sunny winter climate of Arizona that they have built beautiful homes here which are situated on the desert with the stately mountains as a background.

The park which surrounds the state capitol building is one of the most attractive in the state. It contains nearly every type of tree found in the Southwest besides hundreds of tropical and semi-tropical plants and trees imported from foreign countries.

Some of the more unique types of gardens of Arizona include the cactus gardens which are found mainly in the Salt River valley.

VALEDICTORIANS AND SALUTATORIAN

JACK CLARK

THIS year three girls tied for the position of valedictorian, Muriel Kerby, Louise Shoemaker, and Patience Tribolet being selected as co-valedictorians. Their grades were all so nearly perfect for the entire four years that no one of the three could be selected. This is the first time in the history of the school that this many students have been chosen.

Although the selection of valedictorian depends entirely upon the student's scholastic standing, all three were prominent in school activities. Muriel Kerby entered Phoenix Union high school from Missouri in her sophomore year, and she served as secretary of her class during her senior year. Louise Shoemaker was a member of the Girls' League central council for three years and served as vice-president of the student body in 1932-33. Patience Tribolet was one of the co-editors of the Coyote Journal this year. All three girls were members of the Parnassus club and the National Honor Society.

According to the school tradition, if a girl is selected as valedictorian, then a boy is elected salutatorian. This year the seniors chose Jack Clark to represent them at the graduating exercises. The four other boys nominated for salutatory honors were John Hazelett, Owen Watkins, John Anderson, and William Ross.

Jack has been prominent in several school activities. In his junior year he was the junior class winner of the annual public discussion contest, and during his senior year he served as senior representative to the Boys' Federation cabinet. He also was master of ceremonies at the boys' vaudeville, Mor Folies.

THE SENIOR CLASS of '33 entered high school in the fall of 1929 with 1452 members. The officers included Lee Lowery, Cecil Gunn, Martin Spalding, Mable Justice, Harry North, and Dorothy Ferguson. This group of students made themselves outstanding from the first in both athletics and scholarship. About one-fourth of the members of the Parnassus club were freshmen.

The following year the officers chosen were Lee Lowery, Jimmy Lane, Lucille Caldwell, Barbara Stevenson, Mary Louise Watson, and Harry North. Fifty-six students from the sophomore class were members of the Parnassus club. A number of the sophomores were outstanding in athletics. Nathalie Colvocoresses, a sophomore girl, won the public discussion contest, and Betsy Clark and Eleanor Jeffrey received recognition in a national essay and short story contest. Owen Watkins and Helen Rhue received awards in a contest for the best pioneer stories.

As juniors the class of '33 elected for officers Lee Lowery, Jimmie O'Malley, Helene Wille, Barbara Stevenson, Mary Louise Watson, and Harry North.

As seniors the class of '33 presented the senior play "Friend Hannah", and they were hosts to the juniors at the annual junior-senior prom. The senior picnic was as successful as the junior picnic of the previous year.

Earl Melby
President

In 1930 over one thousand students entered high school as freshmen. Their class officers included Earl Melby, president; Barbara Vaughn, vice-president; Jack Rodgers, secretary; Homer Matthews, treasurer; Bill Allen, boy representative; Helen Brow, girl representative. About one-fourth of the members of the Parnassus club were freshmen. Members of this class were also prominent in sports.

As sophomores the class of '34 chose for officers Earl Melby, president; Joe Hyde, vice-president; Jane Weber, secretary; Fred Price, treasurer; Sue Blackwell, girl representative; Kay Fetter, boy representative.

This year 899 members of the class of '34 returned as juniors. The junior picnic was held October 20 and was attended by the largest crowd that has ever been present at a class picnic in the history of the school. The junior class play, Second Childhood, was presented February 24 and 25. In the spring the juniors were hosts to the seniors at the annual junior-senior banquet. Up to this time the juniors have not only been prominent in all school activities, but also they have made outstanding records in scholarship and athletics.

The junior attendants to the queen of the Masque of the Yellow Moon were Irmella Navarre and Twyla Fairbanks.

OVER FIFTEEN HUNDRED students entered Phoenix Union high school in the fall of 1932, forming one of the largest freshman classes in the history of the school and the largest class in the school this year. The second semester 1140 students returned to finish out the year.

An assembly was held in September at which time the class selected its officers. The freshman representatives elected to the Girls' League Council this year were Frances Pinnell and Julia Preston. Freshman representatives to the Boys' Federation cabinet were Jack Lindstrom and Bob Mulleneaux. The freshman girls who were chosen at an election early this spring to serve as sophomore Girls' League representatives were Alice George and Betty Montgomery.

During their first year in high school the freshmen have entered into many of the school activities and have been prominent in many school organizations.

Freshman attendants for the queen of the Masque of the Yellow Moon, who are chosen by the entire freshman class, were Jacqueline Templeton and Kathleen Johnson.

Calvin Evans
President

In The Fall of 1931 the present sophomore class entered high school with over a thousand members. For officers the class chose Billy Boice as president; Jack Anderson, vice-president; Nellie Cochran, secretary; Jimmy Johnson, treasurer; Dorothy Beck, girl representative; and Calvin Evans, boy representative. They also selected Barbara Wilkinson and Sibyl Baker as freshman representatives to the Girls' League Central Council, and Jack Laney and L. B. Nelson represented them in the Boys' Federation cabinet.

Earl Douthitt and Paul Adams were chosen as class representatives to the Boys' Federation. The sophomore representatives to the Girls' League Central Council were Sybil Baker and Barbara Wilkinson.

Since their entrance into high school as freshmen this class has taken part in almost every activity. The Girls' League vaudeville revealed much talent among the sophomore girls in music, dancing, and expression. Sophomore boys also figure prominently in Mor Folies, the Boys' Federation vaudeville. This year Marie Bruins and Ann Voorhees were selected as sophomore attendants to Mildred Toney, queen of the Masque of the Yellow Moon.

Arizona is famous everywhere for the large variety of beautiful flowers which can be grown here the year around.

The zinnia is popular because of its beauty and hardy nature, and those grown in the Salt River valley are particularly noted for their size and beauty.

Several Phoenix gardens have poinsettas which grow to a height of 8 or 10 feet and with care can be kept throughout the winter.

Geraniums are grown widely and last through the winter, as do most of the perennial flowers, such as castor bean, madeira vine, and moonvine. In the spring the desert is made colorful by a covering of poppies.

Roses are grown widely as are also petunias, larkspur, African daises, and chrysanthemums.

The tamerisk trees of Arizona grow as much as 20 feet per year, and any other well watered plant, which is suited to the climate, grows almost as quickly. This is due to the long summers, light winters, and ever-shining sun.

THE PURPOSE of the Coyote Journal is to acquaint the students with the activities of their fellow-members of the student body and of the faculty. The paper is managed and produced in much the same way as the city papers.

For the past two years a new ruling has been in operation, allowing new members to be added to the staff at the beginning of the second semester. If a student shows outstanding ability in journalism and is able to pass the staff entrance examination, which is a new requirement this year, he is given a staff position. Each semester a new group of reporters is acquired from the journalism classes of the previous semester. To take journalism a student must have made a grade of one or two in his previous semester of English and be recommended by his teacher of that subject.

A new staff position this year is that of bill-collector. The duty of this student is to collect as many old and over-due bills as he can. A contest was held, the winner of which was to receive the staff position. Eugene Bailey and John Martin tied for the first place.

The Coyote Journal is a member of the National Scholastic association; a member of Quill and Scroll, a national organization for high school journalists; and member of the Columbia Scholastic Press association. The paper received All-American rating from the National Scholastic Press association in 1927-1928, 1928-1929, 1929-1930, 1931-1932.

The Coyote Journal is now a member of the Arizona Publishers' association. Phoenix Union high school and Tempe State Teachers' college are the only schools in the state whose papers are members of this association.

This year the Coyote Journal has not only increased its subscription circulation but has also sold more single copies than ever before in the history of the school. The same plan was used this year as last, through which combined subscriptions to the Coyote Journal and the Phoenician were sold at a reduced price for a short time at the first of the school year.

This is the first time in the history of the Coyote Journal that there have been two editors. The system has worked very well and prevents one person from having to bear all the responsibility.

An important feature of the Coyote Journal is the annual football edition. It is the largest paper of the year, and more copies are sold than of any other issue of the Journal. It includes a summary of the football season with pictures of the teams and coaches. Another interesting edition is the April Fool paper, which had a Wild West theme this year.

An interesting fact concerning the Coyote Journal is the number of students who have this year taken part in its publications. More than one hundred twenty-five students have acted as regular reporters, ad solicitors, or staff members, thus making the Journal one of the larger activities in the school from the point of student participation.

Journalism may be taken by juniors and seniors who have a grade average of three or better, and students who register in the journalism classes receive the same credit as those taking English 7 and 8. However credit for graduation may not be received for both journalism and senior English. A class in advertising soliciting is to be started next year. Extra-curricular credit will be granted for this work.

THE PHOENICIAN, year-book of Phoenix Union high school, is published to present an accurate account of all the activities of the students during the school year.

This year the Phoenician staff has not only tried to produce a year-book both artistic and interesting, but also it had to do this and at the same time reduce all expenses to a minimum. For this reason and to increase the attractiveness of the annual, hand painted pictures, for only the second time since the Phoenician was first produced in 1910, have been used. This art work appears at the first of each of the four main division pages and in the frontispiece. The hand painting was possible only through the co-operation of Mrs. Cordelia M. Perkins and the art classes.

As is also the custom for the Coyote Journal, all students desiring to make the Phoenician staff must pass a test in proof reading, copy

An error was made in 1926 in the numbering of that volume of the Phoenician. This year the mistake has been corrected by making the 1933 year-book the twenty-fourth instead of the twenty-third volume as it would have been had not the error been discovered.

For the past three years the Phoenician has won All American Honor Rating in the National Scholastic Press association contest. This is the highest award that any annual can receive.

The staff of the Phoenician wishes to express its thanks to Mr. Bargman and his assistants in the business office and to Miss Dorothy P. Burdsal and the workers in the ticket office for their whole-hearted co-operation in assisting in the production of this year-book.

Although lemons are now grown only to a limited extent, they are gradually gaining prominence in the list of Arizona products and perhaps some day will rival the orange and grapefruit output. There are about 200 acres of lemons now being grown, mainly in the Salt River valley. The seeds for these trees are of the highest possible grade, and every orchard is given special attention to assure a good crop. This promises unexcelled quality and instant demand for Arizona lemons.

Other citrus fruits that have only lately received attention in Arizona include limes and tangerines. One of the interesting novelties in citrus growing is a tree which has been budded with a number of various citrus fruits. The result is many different varieties on the same tree.

DEBATE AND ORATORY

DEBATE AND ORATORY are two of the important activities of Phoenix Union high school although, due to the depression, they have not played as prominent a part in the school affairs as in previous years.

The Valley Declamation contest, which was held February 24 at Buckeye, was the first important oratorical contest of the year. Sam Hearn placed first, giving William Jennings Bryan's oration on "Character."

Although the National Constitutional Oratorical contest was abandoned this year, the Arizona Republic sponsored a state contest the finals of which were held the first week in May. The semi-finalists from Phoenix included Sam Hearn, James Hillhouse, Lester Hayt, James Hull, Owen Watkins, and Franklin Hunter. The winner of the Phoenix Union high school contest and the entrant in the state contest was Sam Hearn. In 1931 Alfred Baughn was the state winner in the national contest and placed second in the contest at Los Angeles. Walter Maxwell represented Arizona in 1932.

Each year the Phoenix Rotary club sponsors a public discussion contest for students of Phoenix Union high school. This year's subject was "How high school students can help to relieve the depression". Out of several hundred entrants La Vonne Walker won first place; Frederick Duffy placed second; and third place was taken by Vernon Breedlove.

The first debate of the year was with Bakersfield and was held in Phoenix, November 21. Katherine Greenwalt and Ed Beauchamp represented Phoenix. Two debates with Tucson were held in April, the first of which was in Phoenix and the second in Tucson. Those who composed the debate squad in the fall of 1932 were Thelbert Taylor, Howard Lowe, and Walter Templeton. The spring debate squad included Katherine Greenwalt, Ed Beauchamp, Flora Nichols, Carolann Smurthwaite, John Donegan, Edmund Kerr, Clark Taylor, and Fred Riley.

For their class play the junior class of P. U. H. S. chose a broad farce, Second Childhood, by Zellah Covington and Jules Simonson. The play was presented on February 24 and 25.

The plot of the play is based upon old General Burbeck's search for the "fountain of youth" in order that he may marry the attractive young daughter of his friend, Professor Relyea. The reason for his desire to regain youth is that he has encountered competition in the person of Philip Stanton, the professor's handsome young assistant. Professor Relyea has just invented the "Exlixir of Youth", and he uses the general as his first patient. The results are some very comical complications.

Mr. Dow B. Roush directed the play due to the illness of Miss Mila M. Bray.

"Friend Hannah" by Paul Kester, a romantic comedy in four acts, was the play presented by the senior class, April 7 and 8.

The story concerns the secret marriage of George III and the little Quaker girl, Hannah Lightfoot. When Hannah discovers that her husand is the king of England she is persuaded by the king's mother to give up her husband and go to America. The last act shows George and Hannah 40 years later when George, who is now blind and demented, returns to the garden where they first met.

The play, directed by Mr. Dow B. Roush, was without doubt one of the most finished class productions ever presented.

Possibly because this comedy is so different in type from the usual school play and possibly because of the excellent acting, it became the most popular offering of the year.

HANNAH'S FRIENDS

LES FOLIES

THE ANNUAL GIRLS' LEAGUE vaudeville, Les Folies, was presented in the high school auditorium, November 9 and 10. Each year the Girls' League presents this vaudeville in order to defray the expense of the activities of the league which include sending delegates to the Girls' League convention.

The program was composed of songs, dances, and skits given by talented members of the Girls' League.

The entertainment was under the supervision of Miss Gladys Bookman. She was assisted by Miss Katherine Rayl and Mrs. Ruth Hetherington. Several of the local dancing studios arranged the solo numbers. Music was furnished for the production by the high school orchestra under the direction of Mr. A. R. Etzweiler.

The business managers, who were appointed by the Girls' League Central Council, included Mary Will Harter, business manager; Mary Ernest Jackson, ticket sales manager; and Martha Cunningham, advertising manager. Each of these managers was aided by a committee of four girls. Mary Will Harter was assisted by Miss Ethel Rosenberry. Myrtle Hind acted as stage manager.

LUCILLE CALDWELL

Mor Folies, the third annual boys' vaudeville, was presented February 3 and 4, under the direction of Miss Gladys Bookman. The vaudeville included singing and dancing numbers and skits. Miss Bookman was assisted by Miss Katherine Rayl and Miss Mila M. Bray.

MASQUE OF THE YELLOW MOON

THE EIGHTH annual pageant of the Masque of the Yellow Moon, was entitled "Wonder Water" and was presented on April 28, in the high school stadium. The entire production was under the supervision of Mrs. Cordelia M. Perkins, head of the high school art department.

In the election for the queen and her attendants for the Masque, Mildred Toney was chosen queen. Her attendants included Emma Kent, Martha Sparks, Twyla Fairbanks, Irmella Navarra, Marie Bruins, Ann Voorhees, Kathleen Johnson, and Jacqueline Templeton.

Over two thousand high school and Junior college students participated in the production of this pageant. It was divided into two parts—the first dealing with legendary and prehistoric Arizona. The story for this first section was written by Mr. Neil E. Cook of the Phoenix Junior college. It told of the Indian youths who stole the corn maidens for their wives so that they might always have these maidens to plant their corn, but this angered the gods, and they sent a long drought to punish the warriors. The gods finally relented, but rain was sent only in small quantities and the Indian youths were banished.

The second part was composed of a group of dances picturing the changes brought about by irrigation. These dances were arranged and directed by the physical education department of the high school. The high school bands under the direction of Mr. A. R. Etzweiler and Mr. John J. Boyer and the junior college band directed by Mr. Schofield Schwartz, furnished the music. The queen and her attendants held court during this part of the Masque which was entitled The Enchanted Garden.

MILDRED TONEY,
QUEEN OF THE MASQUE

Arizona's greatest industry is the raising of lettuce. Ranking second in the United States in the output of this vegetable, over 20,000 acres of lettuce are now under irrigation in Maricopa and Yuma valleys. In 1930 alone 55,628 carloads of lettuce were shipped out of the state. Throughout Pinal and the fertile San Simon valleys in Cochise county are found large tracts of lettuce acreage. In 1928 Arizona produced 10 per cent of all the lettuce grown in the United States, and economists predict a steady rise in prominence of Arizona lettuce, as our resources for this culture have scarcely been touched.

Other leafy vegetables important in Arizona are cabbage, cauliflower, and broccoli.

ADVANCED ORCHESTRA

THE ADVANCED ORCHESTRA, under the direction of Mr. A. R. Etzweiler, won great popularity with both the students of the high school and the people of Phoenix.

The orchestra assisted the Advanced Glee Club in the annual Christmas pageant and in the George Washington's Birthday celebration. It also participated in the Valley Music Festival and in many other school activities.

There are 37 members of the orchestra, many of whom have been members for four years.

GIRLS' BAND

THE GIRLS' BAND is an organization which was formed with the idea of giving all girls interested in musical instruments the opportunity to secure a training in that special field. Under the direction of Mr. John J. Boyer, the band played for the various school and local organizations and paraded at football and basketball games. It also took part in the annual Music Festival.

Although only three years old, the band has taken its place as one of the most popular of musical organizations of the high school.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' GLEE CLUBS

TAKING AN ACTIVE part in various school and civic programs, the Girls' Advanced Glee Club, under direction of Miss Katherine Rayl, concluded one of its most successful seasons this spring.

One of the biggest undertakings of the club this year was the presentation of the Christmas pageant, which was given with the assistance of the Boys' Advanced Glee Club.

The club presented the opening number in the Girls' League vaudeville, Les Folies. The theme of this number was Washington's Bicentennial Birthday and also the presidential election, which was prevalent in the minds of the people at that time. Solo numbers were sung by Mary Jane Vance, Audrey Lefmann, Marydel Calvin, and Edith Silva.

In the annual school music festival the club upheld its reputation, and in the Salt River Valley Music Festival, which was held in the spring, the high school was well represented by the Advanced Girls' and Boys' Glee Clubs, as well as by all other musical organizations

Many programs were presented for various local clubs and churches, and also for several school assemblies.

Officers elected for this year were Muriel Kerby, president; Edith Silva, vice-president; Maxine Johnson, secretary; Thelma Spielman, business manager.

Members of the sextette were first sopranos, Lee Gillis, Edith Silva; second sopranos, Barbara McAlpin, Winnie Mae Edgar; altos, Joyce Casey, Jane Webber. The soloist was Fern Grisham.

The girls chose as uniforms this year, a smartly tailored white suit, with ties made of red and black silk.

Miss Rayl has been a member of the high school faculty for three years, succeeding Miss Weltha Graham. With the assistance of Miss Florence Emery, English teacher, she has written several school songs.

Beginning Girls' Glee Club classes are called the Intermediate classes and often assist the Advanced Glee Clubs. Over three hundred girls are singing in these glee clubs. The more advanced of these girls will be the ones who will take the places of senior girls who are members of the Advanced Glee Club and are graduating this year.

These classes have taken part in numerous activities, such as the Valley Music Festival and the Masque of the Yellow Moon. They also have sung on several radio programs.

All intermediate classes are under the direction of Mr. Milton Rasbury and Mr. John Boyer.

Mr. Rasbury has been a member of the faculty for two years and is a well-known Phoenix musician. Mr. Boyer is director of the Girls' Band and has also been on the faculty for two years.

The Advanced Boys' Glee Club, under Miss Rayl's direction, presented many interesting programs throughout the school year and became popular with music lovers of Phoenix.

In the Boys' Federation vaudeville, Mor Folies, the club presented a beautifully scened and excellently prepared number, "The Volga Boatman."

Members of the quartette were: first tenor, Roderick Clellan; second tenor, Elliot Cohn; first bass, Robert Smith; second bass; Ed Hall; soloist, Ed Hall.

Uniforms chosen by the boys were white shirts and trousers with an emblem of red and black representing the club.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT

In 1930 a unit of the Reserve Officers training corps was established in P. U. H. S. succeeding the Arizona Cadet corps. Previous to this time the boys enlisted in the A. C. C., and all sophomore and junior boys were required to take military training. Supervised by Captain H. N. Christman, who is a new member of the P. U. H. S. faculty this year, and his assistant, Captain Jesse McComb, the Phoenix Union high school military department now has an official and complete course in military training.

Bob Smith
Lieutenant-Colonel

The United States government furnishes the high school all the necessary equipment for proper instruction in the science of war, and all training is supervised by the government. Uniforms and ornaments of the regulation army type are furnished each student.

The military students not only receive instruction in regular infantry drill but also in machine gun drill, wall-scaling, marksmanship, firing data, elementary topography, map reading, sanitation, and first aid. Several times during the year outside speakers are invited to lecture to the cadets on subjects pertaining to military affairs.

Inspection contests were held this year, the winners of which were awarded theater tickets. There are two separate inspections each week, one for privates and one for non-commissioned officers. Once each year there is a federal inspection by the federal inspecting officer of the Eighth Corps area. At the Greenway Field meet each year the P.U.H.S. military department competes with Tucson high school and the Phoenix Indian school.

This year the commanding officer of the high school military group was Bob Smith, holding the rank of lieutenant-colonel. Hal Schupp served as major of the first battalion and Meyer Wilson as major of the second battalion.

Prior to this year the members of the military department selected annually three sponsors and an honorary colonel from the girls of the school. The tradition, however, has been abandoned this year.

Members of the R.O.T.C. group give exhibitions at various football and basketball games, at the Washington Birthday celebration, and at the Masque of the Yellow Moon.

The R. O. T. C. club is the military club of the P. U. H. S. It is composed of second, third, and fourth year men in the Reserve Officers training corps. The purpose of the club is to bring together all boys interested in military affairs. The social activities of the club consist of at least one banquet each year and a military ball. New members are chosen at the first of each semester. The officers of the R.O.T.C. club this year included Bob Smith, president; Davis Beauchamp, vice-president; and Bernard Johnson, treasurer. The club sponsor is Captain H. N. Christman.

All the instruction and training is under the supervision of Captain H. N. Christman.

Although the R.O.T.C. band is designated as the official high school band, it is a part of the military department and plays for all formal parades and inspections of the R. O. T. C. unit. In fulfilling its duties as the high school band it represents P.U.H.S. at all athletic events. The R. O. T. C. band is directed by Mr. A. R. Etzweiler.

For the first time in the history of the school a Drum and Bugle Corps was organized in P.U.H.S. this year. Due to the fact that the new organization was unable to complete its membership and secure instruments and uniforms until spring, it was impossible to include a picture of the Drum and Bugle corps in the Phoenician.

Other officers than those already listed for Headquarters division included Robert Eckenstein, first lieutenant; Fred Wilson and Paul Petty, second lieutenants. Company A officers were Harry Faulkner, captain; Roy Roach, First Lieutenant; Leo Peart and Ralph Storck, second lieutenants. Those serving in Company B included Davis Beauchamp, captain; Shrier Shinn, first lieutenant; John Weidler and James Blaine, second lieutenants.

Officers for Company D were Clark Taylor, captain; George Sanders, first lieutenant; Loy Roberds and Earl Peugh, second lieutenants. For Company E the officers were Daryl McMillen, captain; James Hillhouse, first lieutenant; Harry Ellenberg, Frank Titel, and Henry Fuller, second lieutenants. The officers for the band were Amenzo Miller, major; Robert Kaster, captain; Lloyd Blair, first lieutenant; Frank Mognett, Ralph George, William Griffith, Harold Gardner, and Charles Gardiner, second lieutenants.

Although figs have never been grown extensively in Arizona, they are well suited to the growing conditions here, and they are expected some day to prove one of Arizona's big sources of wealth. The culture of this fruit has not developed due to the comparatively short time Arizona, as a state, has had to expand its resources. About 1180 acres of fig orchards are under culture in Arizona, most of them in Pinal county.

Pears, peaches, plums, pomegranates, and other deciduous fruits are grown in the northern part of the state and comprise a small but comparatively important industry.

Lately there have been some experiments with banana raising in Arizona, and, should they prove successful, the "baby state" will add another name to her long list of agricultural products.

Dear Maxine (Kee T.)

Well about all I can say is you one of the finest girls I have ever met and without a doubt the best sport any girl that will go to a dance with a dead beat like me and then say she had a good time couldent be anything else.

Good luck and plenty of good times.

One of the highest honors in Phoenix high school is to be elected to membership in the National Honor society. Fifteen per cent of those ranking highest in scholarship in the senior class are chosen by a faculty committee each year. Members of the National Honor society are selected the last semester of their senior year, making it impossible for some of them to include membership in their senior activity lists. All members are accordingly listed below.

THE FRIENDSHIP CLUB was organized to obtain a group of girls to welcome new students entering P. U. H. S. from outside schools. Its purpose is to promote a friendly feeling among the new girls.

Several teas and parties are given by the members throughout the year, and outside speakers are invited to address the members. Invitations to join the club are sent to all the new girls entering the school.

Miss Katherine Maus is the club sponsor.

THE GIRLS' LETTER CLUB is an organization sponsored by the G. A. A. and under the direction of Mrs. Hetherington.

Because of the recent change in the G.A.A. point system, it was necessary to change the point requirements for membership in the Letter club.

To become a member of the club a girl must have earned a large letter, which requires 750 points; she must have had a position on two all-star teams; and she must have passed the posture, spirometer, and athletic badge tests.

THE EL KAWAJO RIDING CLUB, advised by Mrs. Violet Dummel, is composed of girls who are interested in learning to ride horseback correctly. The most popular features of the club are moonlight rides on the desert and the breakfast rides. Several contests are held throughout the year. Horses are obtained from some local academy at a nominal rate.

Any girl is eligible to join if she is interested in horseback riding.

THE GIRLS' RIFLE CLUB was organized to train girls who are interested in rifle marksmanship. The school furnishes the girls with army rifles and ammunition. The girls use the regular 50 foot range, and ten rounds of ammunition are allowed them.

The seven best are picked from the club, and these girls compose the team. During the year they have several matches with other high school teams.

The club is supervised by Capt. H. N. Christman.

The club is re-organized each year by the sponsor, Mr. W. J. Wooden, and boys of high scholastic standing and good conduct records may join.

The chief social activity of this club is an annual dance sponsored by the members.

THE BOYS' GOLF CLUB is composed of Phoenix high school boys who are interested either in learning to play golf or in improving their game. Any Phoenix high school boy who is not a professional golfer is eligible. Members of the club compete in the Greenway field meet and in several tournaments during the year.

The boys meet every Tuesday after school at the El Molino golf course.

The club sponsor is Mr. Heinrich Heidenreich.

THE LETTERMEN'S CLUB, supervised by Coach R. R. Robinson, was organized for boys interested in athletics. In order to be eligible a boy must have earned a letter in one of the various sports. New members are admitted at the close of the football, basketball, track, and baseball seasons.

The purpose of the club is to encourage better school spirit. During the year the Lettermen's club sponsors a picnic and a dance.

THE NATIONAL HONORARY ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION was organized for school athletes who have earned a letter in some major sport and also kept their grade average up to a three plus or better.

The club is organized each spring after the first semester grades have been recorded. Coach R. R. Robinson is the adviser of the club. The purpose of the club is to urge athletes to keep their scholastic record as high as their athletic record.

The sections of the country most suited to the growing of maize, oats, barley, and small grains are in Maricopa and Yuma counties.

Alfalfa is an important crop in southern and central Arizona, its total acreage aggregating about 20,000 acres, and the year's crop being valued at four and one-half million dollars. These sections are extremely favorable to the production of alfalfa and grains because of the long growing season, the rich, deep soil, and the favorable markets.

Among the many truck crops grown in Arizona are potatoes, corn, onions, tomatoes, yams, and beans.

Good luck

PHOENIX 45—PEORIA 0

STARTING the 1932 season in a decisive win over Peoria, the Coyotes outplayed the weak Panther eleven throughout the entire game to run up a score of 45-0, under the "canned sunshine," Friday, September 16.

Peoria, the only valley team who would meet Phoenix, played to the best of their ability but were unable to score or hold the heavier and stronger Coyote eleven.

Phoenix played Peoria to fill out the vacancy left by Glendale, who dropped from the tenative schedule.

PHOENIX 40—YUMA 13

FIGHTING their way to a 40-13 victory, the Coyotes overwhelmed the Yuma Criminals in a one-sided contest that showed plenty of weak spots in both defense and offense.

Yuma, making no gains by line plunges or end runs, started an aerial attack which put the Coyotes on the defensive the last part of the game. Successfully completing three of the well-known "sleeper plays," the Criminals were able to score twice and convert once, scoring 13 points.

Blanton was the main cog in the Coyote machine and made many successful gains through the Yuma line. He accounted for two touchdowns during the game. Kajikawa also turned in many spectacular plays.

PHOENIX 18—FLAGSTAFF FROSH 2

THE PHOENIX, "Million Dollar" end around did much to the Lumberjack freshmen in the Friday night game September 23, and they bowed to El Coyote 18-2, in Phoenix' second appearance of the season.

In this game the Coyotes avenged the bitter defeat suffered from the Lumberjacks last year.

Spalding accounted for 18 points when he completed 3 out of 5 attempts at the goal line using the end around play. Kajikawa also starred by his runs.

PHOENIX 0—ARIZONA FROSH 0

FIGHTING one of the greatest defensive games of the season the University of Arizona yearlings and Phoenix Coyotes played a scoreless tie when neither team was able to get near the goal lines to score. The game was played at the Phoenix stadium, October 14, and was witnessed by the largest crowd of the season.

In this game the Frosh collected 11 first downs and the Coyotes 4. Although the Freshmen made more yardage, Phoenix was in better positions to score.

"Bull" Harrell, former Coyote captain, proved to be a stumbling block for the "million dollar" end arounds and broke up every one on his side of the line. The other U. of A. tackle was almost equally strong.

PHOENIX 18—LAS CRUCES 13

RENEWING her friendly gridiron battles with the Las Cruces Bulldogs after a lapse of six years, Phoenix won one of her important conference games by a score of 18-13, at the stadium, October 7.

Phoenix started the tilt with a strong offensive game, and by the half had accounted for two touchdowns. Spalding, Lowery, and Kajikawa were the main figures in the drives to the Bulldog's goal line.

At this point of the game Captain Fred Logan of the Bulldogs thrilled the spectators and left the Coyotes in a daze when he received a kickoff and rambled 90 yards for the visitors' first touchdown.

Another Kajikawa-Spalding pass pushed the score to 18 during the third quarter.

The failure of Phoenix to convert after touchdowns kept the fans in a turmoil as Las Cruces launched a powerful offensive in the last quarter when they scored one touchdown and threatened to make another.

During the last quarter Las Cruces completed a perfect triple pass which netted them 20 yards, the only play of its kind in the game.

PHOENIX 18—ALBUQUERQUE 0

AFTER fighting a stubborn defensive game during the first half, Phoenix managed to score three times during the last half and beat the Albuquerque Bulldogs 18-0, Friday night, October 21, at the high school stadium.

During the game the Coyotes were unable to find any openings in the Bulldog line. In the final half they discovered that Albuquerque had weak wingmen, and they took advantage of this knowledge by sending Spalding around the end for nice gains. From this point Kajikawa placed the ball in scoring position, and Blanton carried it over for the first score.

In the last part of the game Blanton intercepted a Bulldog pass and rambled 70 yards for the second touchdown. Lowery accounted for the third marker by a beautifully executed half around.

The winning of this game helped in paving the way for another Coyote Southwestern title. This was the fourth in a series of games played between Phoenix and Albuquerque.

The game was much closer than the score indicated since the first half was practically even.

PHOENIX 14—TUCSON 0

GOING into the game as underdogs, Tucson with her inspired playing surprised the Coyote eleven for two full quarters and made Phoenix use some of their best tricks to win 14-0 at the University of Arizona stadium, Friday night, October 27.

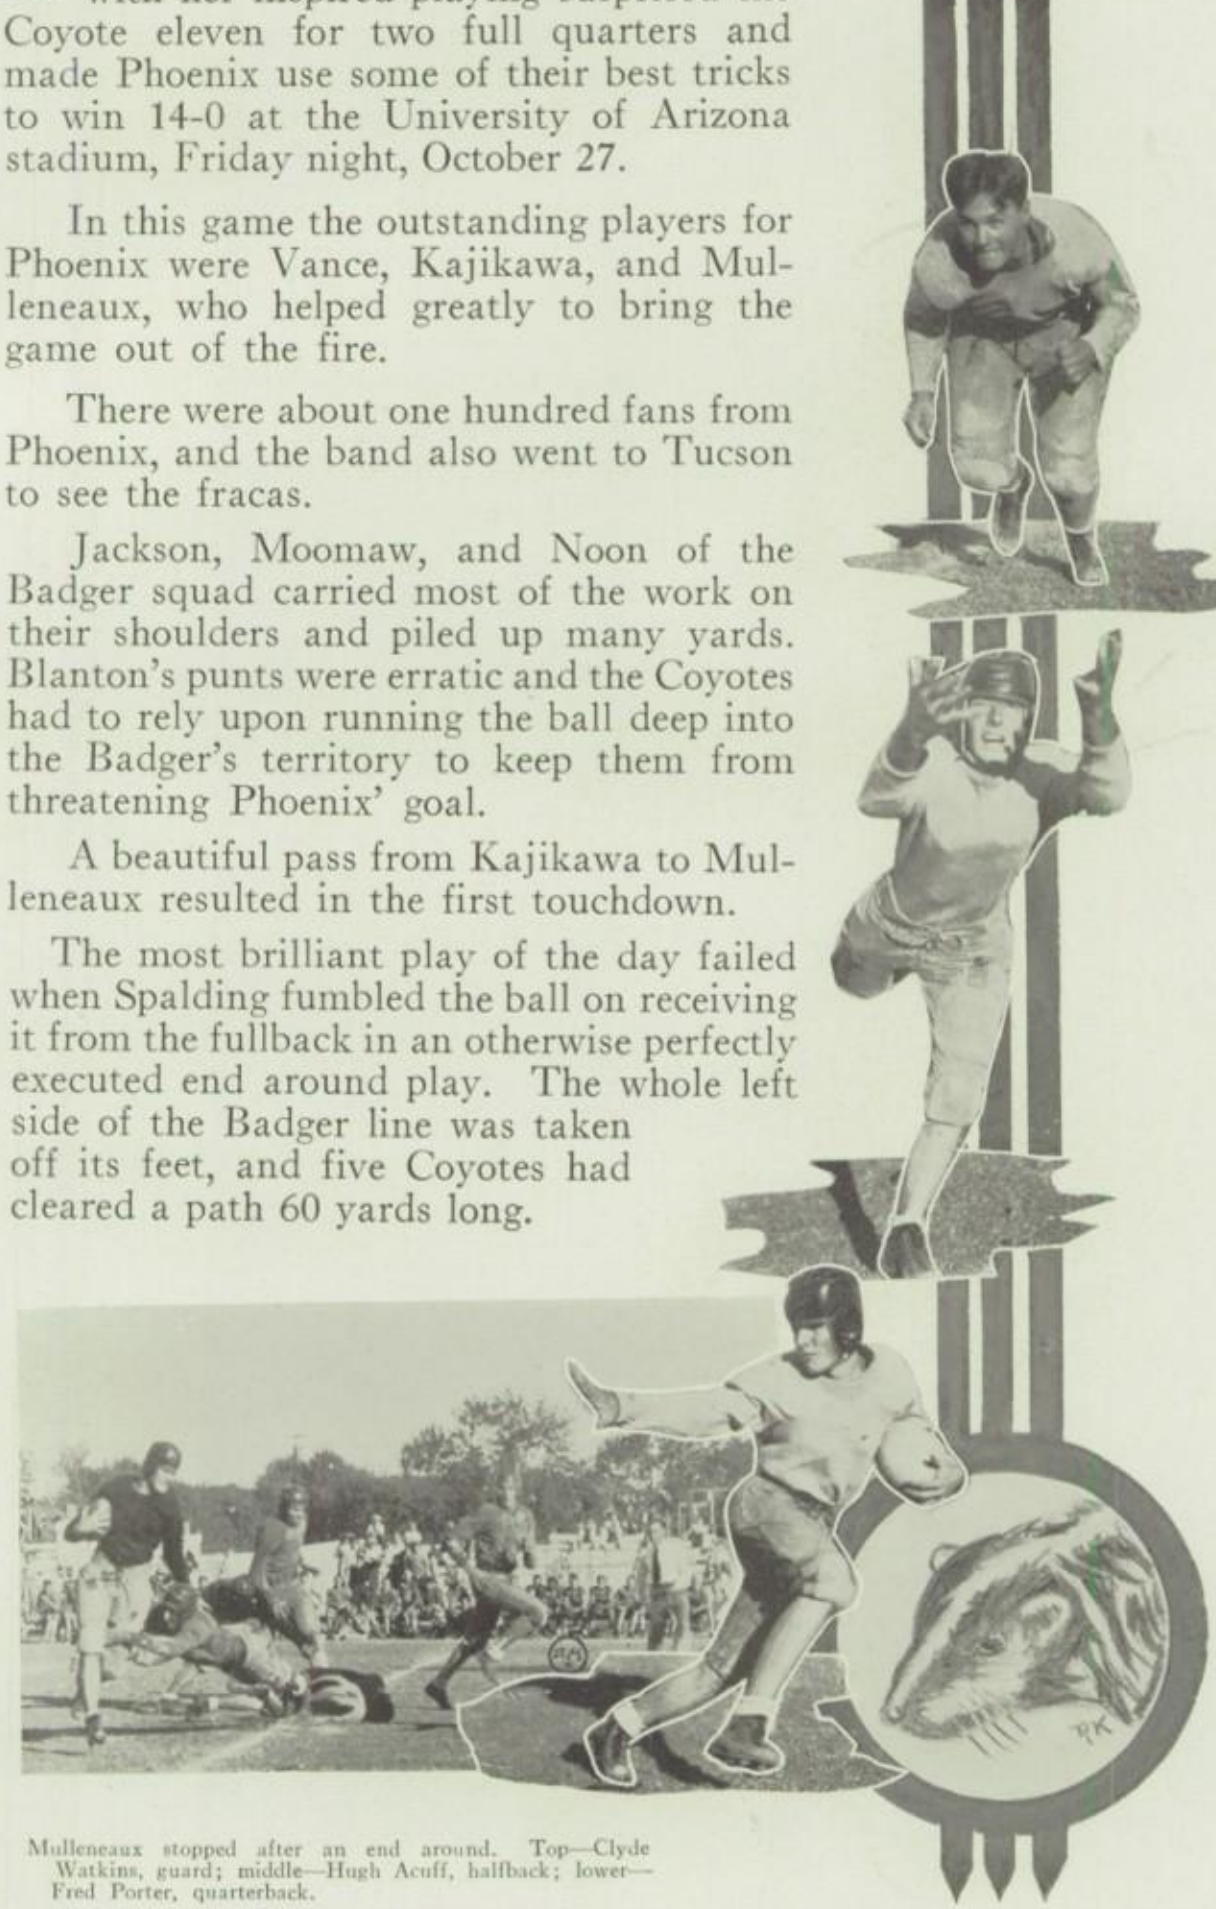
In this game the outstanding players for Phoenix were Vance, Kajikawa, and Mulleneaux, who helped greatly to bring the game out of the fire.

There were about one hundred fans from Phoenix, and the band also went to Tucson to see the fracas.

Jackson, Moomaw, and Noon of the Badger squad carried most of the work on their shoulders and piled up many yards. Blanton's punts were erratic and the Coyotes had to rely upon running the ball deep into the Badger's territory to keep them from threatening Phoenix' goal.

A beautiful pass from Kajikawa to Mulleneaux resulted in the first touchdown.

The most brilliant play of the day failed when Spalding fumbled the ball on receiving it from the fullback in an otherwise perfectly executed end around play. The whole left side of the Badger line was taken off its feet, and five Coyotes had cleared a path 60 yards long.



Mulleneaux stopped after an end around. Top—Clyde Watkins, guard; middle—Hugh Acuff, halfback; lower—Fred Porter, quarterback.

PHOENIX 6—SAN DIEGO 30

PHOENIX lost its only game when San Diego upset all expectations to defeat the Coyotes 30-6 in a non-conference game, November 4, at the Coyote stadium.

The Hilltoppers outplayed the Phoenix club throughout the game and seemed to to score at will. "Mushy" Pollock from the Hilltoppers reminded many of the fans of Conrad Flippen by the way he scampered over the yard markers towards the goal-line.

Kajikawa, Mulleneaux, and Vance were outstanding players for Phoenix. It appeared as though these three players were the only ones who were not confused by the snappy San Diego plays.

During the third quarter Kajikawa drove over for the only Coyote touchdown. At the beginning of the second half Phoenix started to play a better game, but because of the score they soon lost their pep and fire.

There were 6000 spectators in the stadium to witness the only defeat for the Coyotes in the 1932 season. It was the first time San Diego had played on the high school stadium field since the Phoenix "1930 wonder team" defeated them 22-20.

PHOENIX 14—EL PASO 0

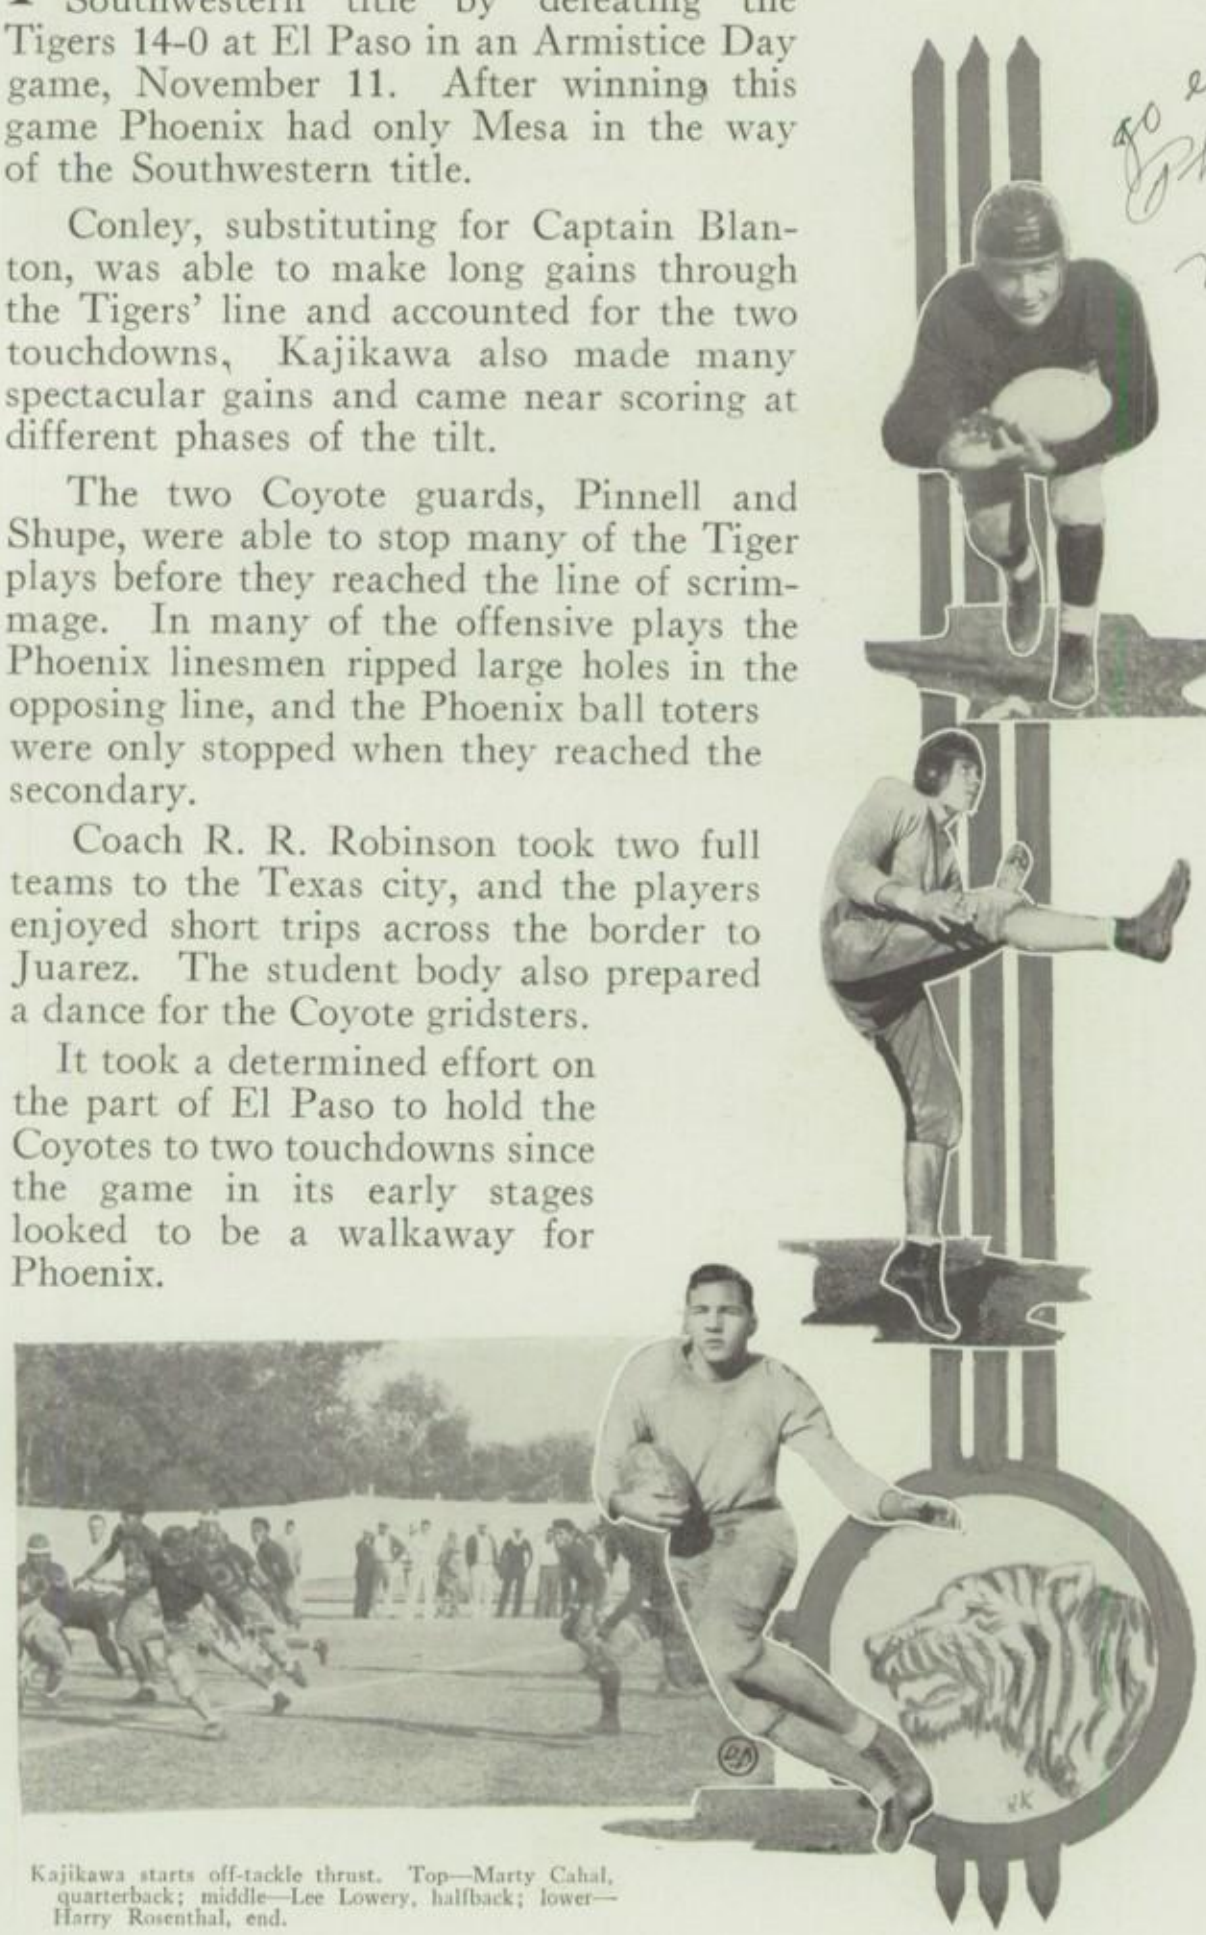
PHOENIX eliminated El Paso from the Southwestern title by defeating the Tigers 14-0 at El Paso in an Armistice Day game, November 11. After winning this game Phoenix had only Mesa in the way of the Southwestern title.

Conley, substituting for Captain Blanton, was able to make long gains through the Tigers' line and accounted for the two touchdowns, Kajikawa also made many spectacular gains and came near scoring at different phases of the tilt.

The two Coyote guards, Pinnell and Shupe, were able to stop many of the Tiger plays before they reached the line of scrimmage. In many of the offensive plays the Phoenix linesmen ripped large holes in the opposing line, and the Phoenix ball toters were only stopped when they reached the secondary.

Coach R. R. Robinson took two full teams to the Texas city, and the players enjoyed short trips across the border to Juarez. The student body also prepared a dance for the Coyote gridsters.

It took a determined effort on the part of El Paso to hold the Coyotes to two touchdowns since the game in its early stages looked to be a walkaway for Phoenix.



Kajikawa starts off-tackle thrust. Top—Marty Cahal, quarterback; middle—Lee Lowery, halfback; lower—Harry Rosenthal, end.

PHOENIX 14—MESA 6

PHOENIX cinched the Arizona state title and placed themselves as co-holders of the Southwestern title when they defeated the Mesa Jackrabbits 14-6 at the stadium, Saturday, November 19.

The Coyotes, taking the Mesa game as a breather before the Indian game, were surprised by the vicious attack of the Rabbits and were scored against before the surprise was over. The second quarter the game developed into a punting duel between Blanton and Skousen. On one of these punts Cahal ran back 27 yards, and, after a few first downs had been made, Lowery scored the first touchdown. The extra point was kicked, and at the half the score remained 7-6.

During the half a brief entertainment was executed by Mesa's girl drill team after which Phoenix R. O. T. C. drilled.

Play resumed during the third quarter with neither team being able to do much with the pigskin. Skousen continually placed his punts out of bounds between the 10 yard line and the goal, handicapping Phoenix greatly.

Carl Mulleneaux made the last touchdown when he completed a sleeper play after Cahall had passed to him from Mesa's 17-yard line.

Mesa attempts center plunge through Phoenix line. Top—Martin Spalding, end, all-state; middle—Roy Sanderson, halfback; lower—Bob Murlless, fullback.

PHOENIX 6—INDIANS 6

In The Annual Thanksgiving Day game between the Indian Braves and the Phoenix Coyotes, both teams made six points and were unable to break up this tie thereafter.

Phoenix scored in the first half of the game when Conley, substituting for Blanton, went over from the six yard line. The Braves made their points in the early part of the third quarter.

This game closed the 1932 football season for Phoenix high. The Coyotes, in order to gain the Southwestern title, would have been forced to play Austin high, but since this game never materialized Phoenix and Austin are now co-holders of the Southwestern championship.

This is the third consecutive year that the State title has been won by the Coyotes. Although Phoenix started the season with what seemed a better team than in 1930, they were not able to finish with a clear record. Phoenix has produced much more impressive teams in the past.

Next year's team will probably be built around Virgil Vance, who has shown himself to be an excellent man under the hardest of conditions. It is expected that he will be shifted to fullback postion where he has played during the past two spring seasons. Walter Conley also shows promise.

Several varieties of nuts are raised in Arizona, including pecans, pinions, peanuts, almonds, and hickory nuts.

Most of the pecans produced in this state come from the fertile Yuma valley, near Yuma, Arizona. About 2200 acres of pecans are now under cultivation, and plans are being made to open new acres in that valley to this already important crop.

The Indian pinions, which are very small, hard nuts, are grown for local use, but commercial possibilities exist, and time may see an expansion in the production of these odd members of the nut family which constitute the main factor in the diet of the Northern Arizona Indians.

Peanuts are grown locally, mainly to rotate crops since these nuts furnish nitrogen for the soil. English walnuts, almonds, and hickory nuts are found to a small extent throughout the state.

SUMMARY OF THE SEASON

PHOENIX played through the 1933 basketball season winning a large percentage of the conference games and placed high in the running to win a place in the state tournament.

The Coyotes declined the offer to go to Tucson, however, and entered the Valley tournament instead. To win this chance Phoenix won from all the valley hoopsters except Mesa, to whom they dropped two games. These games were two of the hardest fought duels in the valley, and Mesa was just able to push her score above the Coyote total.

Some of the stronger teams that Phoenix beat were Yuma, Glendale, and Peoria. In these three games the Coyotes had to play to the best of their ability to obtain a winning margin.

There are only four men graduating from the squad this year. They are Kajikawa, Stafford, Koonse, and Spalding. The loss of Stafford will greatly handicap the team, as he was an exceptionally good guard.

Next year's squad will probably be built around Twitchell, who has been a good man in any position on the floor. Coach Jesse McComb has some fairly good boys on the second team who will be used to fill in the vacancies left by this year's seniors.

VALLEY TOURNAMENT

PLAYING in the finals, Phoenix met defeat from the Glendale Cardinals in the Valley tournament, March 11, by a score of 19-28, at the Coyote gymnasium.

Phoenix won over Buckeye, Gila Bend, and Wickenburg to get into the finals. These games were comparatively easy, and Phoenix ran up some large scores.

In the final game with Glendale, Phoenix met her "Waterloo" when Glendale offered one of the strongest defenses ever seen on the Phoenix courts. In this game, Waago was so well guarded that he was unable to shoot, and this handicapped the Coyotes greatly.

"Hank" Slagle was high point man for the tournament, and Waago placed second in basket shooting.

Twitchell, Slagle, and Waago were Phoenix' contribution to the All-Tournament team.

Glendale and Phoenix played a superior game to the other smaller valley teams and were expected to enter the State meet but, due to the "bank closing", were unable to attend.

Above—Beecher Twitchell, All Valley Tournament, guard; middle—Junior Bolin, forward; lower—Melvin Stafford, All Valley, guard; bottom—the second team.

NON-CONFERENCE GAMES

El Coyote, finding its non-conference opponents were playing harder basketball than conference teams, won only one game out of five played.

In the El Paso series the games were divided with both teams winning one game. These two games were the Coyotes' hardest during the season. El Paso beat Phoenix the first night of their series by only a small margin, and the following night Phoenix won also by a close score.

Las Cruces brought a strong team to Phoenix and went home with another pelt in her luggage. Both teams led in the scoring at different points of the game, but Las Cruces started some fast scoring at the close of the game to win 28-33.

Phoenix also dropped a game to Mutual Benefit, Commercial league champions, and to the Indian School. Conrad Flippen starred in the commercial game by sinking baskets at will and accounting for most of his team's points.

A trip to Albuquerque was postponed due to the financial conditions of both schools. This postponement deprived the Coyotes of their only long trip during the basketball season.

Grape arbors are scattered throughout the state, but the growing of this product has not as yet been done on a large commercial scale. Commercial culture of grapes has been hampered by the fact that greater profit at present lies in other crops. Grapevines thrive under the Arizona sun, and the fruit, always large and luscious, appears every summer. The vines are often used to shade and protect houses and plants. With correct watering these vines grow quite rapidly but, like most woody perennials, die to the roots in winter.

One of the industries of Arizona which has only lately been developed to any extent is the production of honey. The demand for desert honey is increasing yearly, however, and this product will, no doubt, soon become more important.

SEASON SUMMARY

THE 1933 track season proved successful for the Coyotes as they won every meet they entered. In most of these meets the Phoenix points totaled almost double that of the second place winners.

Phoenix won the Greenway by a large margin with seven first places going to the Coyotes and numerous seconds and thirds. In the state meet the Coyotes did not fare so well and took only three first places.

Charles Hart of Phoenix and Dale Beedle of Miami were the consistent record breakers in the state this year. They set the records in the discus and shot put, respectively.

Budgie Spalding was a consistent winner in the 100 and 220 yard dashes and could be relied upon to turn in 10 points in any track meet. With the exception of the state meet he was unbeaten this year.

In the distance runs and jumping events Phoenix was very weak, being forced to rely upon the dashes and hurdles for the winning points.

GREENWAY MEET

PHOENIX won the Eighth Annual Greenway field day by totaling 46 points to score over Tucson, with 28 points. The meet took place at the fair grounds during the day and at the high school stadium Saturday night, April 22.

Two high school records were broken —one in the shot put by Beedle of Miami, who raised his own mark, and the other by Chuck Hart of Phoenix, who smashed the previous discus record with a heave of 126 feet, 3½ inches. This bettered the old mark of 123 feet, 10 inches set by Cahill of Phoenix in 1929.

Spalding and Hazelett tied for high point honors in the meet. Spalding won both the 100 and 220 yard dashes, and Hazelett placed first in both hurdle races. These two men turned in four of seven first places that the Coyote athletes won.

The relay team was composed of Shaughnessy, Nelson, Hazelett, and Spalding.

Other high schools which won points were Phoenix Indians, 14½; Phoenix Colored school, 13; Duncan, 9½; Miami, 9; Mesa, 7; Safford, 6½; Tempe, 5; Brophy, 3; Glendale, 2; Buckeye, 1; and Bisbee, 1.

University of Arizona won the A. A. U. title by 89 2/3 points. Phoenix Y. M. C. A. was their nearest competitor.

STATE MEET

PHOENIX barely nosed out Tucson to win the twentieth state meet, held at the University of Arizona, Saturday, May 6. The Coyotes finished the meet with 33 points to the Badgers 26½.

The Coyotes took only three first places, and if the secondary winners hadn't come through with 18 points things would have been dark for the Coyotes.

Charles Hart of Phoenix turned in the best performance of the day when he broke the existing discus record by 11 inches and set it at 125 feet 5 inches. Beedle of Miami set a new record in the shot put at 48 feet 2 and ⅛ inches.

An unexpected victory in the 880 yard relay was won by the Phoenix Colored school when they beat out the Coyote team. The biggest upset of the day was when Keplar of Phoenix Colored school beat Spalding in the 100 yard dash and Mills of Tucson won the 220 yard event.

Another new record was made in the 880 yard run when Mason of Douglas set the mark at 2:06.

The only Coyotes to win first places were Hazelett in the 120 high hurdles, Hart in the discus, and Kenyon with a tie for first in the high jump.

PHOENIX 80—INDIANS 59—MESA 15

COYOTE trackmen placed in every event but three to take an easy win over the Phoenix Indians and Mesa in a three-way-meet. when they piled up 80 points to the Indians' 59 and Mesa's 15.

The event took place Saturday afternoon March 25, at the Indian school track.

Captain Spalding was high point man with 15 points.

The Coyotes appeared stronger in the shorter distance events, but the Indians won the mile and two mile runs.

PHOENIX 62—TEMPE FROSH 47—COLORED HIGH 8

PHOENIX won her second track meet in the 1933 season by taking the Tempe Frosh and Colored high school into camp by a safe margin of points, Saturday, April 8.

Spalding, Shaughnessy, Templeton, Kenyon, and Hazelett were first place winners in the track events. Field events went to Hart, Kenyon, and De-Kellis.

Anderson of Tempe was high point man followed closely by Budgie Spalding, Coyote captain. The Colored school won the relay in remarkably good time.

This meet has become an annual affair between the two schools.

Cotton has been grown in Arizona for commercial purposes since 1912, and in 1930 the cotton crop produced in Maricopa county was valued at four million dollars. The variety raised in Pima county is considered superior in many ways to the best long staple type from the Nile valley in Egypt, and Arizona is the only place in the Western Hemisphere where cotton of a staple length of one and one-half inches or more can be successfully grown.

Cotton has ordinarily been thought of as a product of the Old South, but already trucks are running over desert roads bearing cotton to the gins. As in the raising of other products Arizona has the advantage over other sections of the country and so, as soon as the market revives, is expected to make cotton one of her chief sources of wealth.

Wool is a source of good profit in this state as is shown by the large flocks of sheep found on the rich grazing lands of Arizona, and beef production is prominent among industries but is waning as agriculture increases in importance.

Because of the warm winters, the rarity of storms, and the fine crops of alfalfa, dairying is one of the main industries of southern and central Arizona.

PHOENIX 6—PEORIA 2

In the first game of the season, the Phoenix Coyotes won over the Peoria Panthers by a score of 6 to 2 in an easy victory at the high school playing field, Friday, March 24.

Esmay started the game and pitched to the fourth inning when Twitchell relieved him and finished the game. Esmay allowed one hit during his stay on the mound, while Twitchell let the Panthers have two bingles, thus enabling the Panthers to score their two runs.

There were very few errors for a first game, and the team worked with perfect cordination.

PHOENIX 6—MESA 1

Elvin Esmay pitched the Coyote nine to another victory over the Mesa Jackrabbits with a score of 6 to 1, at the high school diamond, March 31.

The Coyote infielding was air-tight, and very few Mesa players reached first base. The Mesa club was credited with seven errors in the game which helped the Coyote scoring greatly.

Bill Kajikawa, second baseman, gave the fans a thrill when he snagged a line drive out of the air bare handed. Hanley Slagle and Kajikawa stole the hitting honors for the game.

Infield players were Lowery third base; Slagle, short stop: Kajikawa, second base; and Canning, first base.

PHOENIX 4—TEMPE 0

PHOENIX won another conference game when she defeated the Tempe Buffalos 4 to 0, Friday, April 7, on the P. U. H. S. playing field. The Tempe players, considered as a weak team, proved to be stronger than predicted and kept the Coyote hurler on his toes.

The Coyotes cinched the game in the fifth inning when Ed Wilson knocked out a home run with Johnson on first base.

Batteries: Phoenix—Esmay and Romero; Tempe—Fulghum and Nichols.

PHOENIX 14—TOLLESON 3

WITH only two hits from the Tolleson team, Phoenix won by the lopsided score of 14 to 3 in a game featuring errors by both teams, Tuesday, April 4, on the home field.

Poor playing on the part of the Tolleson team accounted for the large Coyote score, and a couple of errors by Coyote players allowed three runs to cross the plate.

Just before the game, Lee Lowery was elected captain and Barney Johnson, manager.

PHOENIX 16—SCOTTSDALE 2

SCOTTSDALE played host to the Coyote nine Friday, April 11, and had to hand the Phoenix team a beaver pelt when Phoenix won 16 to 2.

PHOENIX 16—GILA BEND 0

Bebe Twitchell and Elvin Esmay pitched another air-tight game against Gila Bend Friday, April 21, by a score of 16 to 0 at the high school diamond.

The Gila Benders got one lucky hit to spoil Esmay's chances of a perfect game. Very few men reached the Coyote bases and once there either died or were put out.

An interesting part of the game was the little right fielder who looked more like a P. U. H. S. freshman than a Gila Bend ball player. He was so small that Twitchell, the giant Coyote hurler had to toss the ball over the plate to get it anywhere near him.

PHOENIX 16—TEMPE FROSH 12
PHOENIX 6—TEMPE FROSH 2

The Coyotes won a series of two games with the Tempe freshmen by defeating them once on their diamond and once on the home field.

In the first game Twitchell started the hurling and held the frosh to no hits for three innings. Rhoades then replaced Twitchell and allowed the yearlings the few hits on which they scored their runs.

The second game proved a little harder to win as the teachers had greatly improved their ball club. Rhoades and Romero pitched this game and allowed but few hits. All of the Coyotes turned in good performances at the bat.

PHOENIX 2—CASA GRANDE 0

With many strike-outs featuring the game Phoenix won over the Casa Grande Cougars, Saturday, April 22, at Casa Grande by a 2 to 0 score.

Lee of the Cougar squad struck out 14 Phoenix men in the seventh inning game but allowed four hits, enough to lose the game. Esmay, the Coyote hurler, fanned nine men, and only two Cougars reached first base. One of these men reached first with a hit, and the other was walked.

Esmay won his own game in the first inning when he knocked out a home run. The other score crossed the plate in the sixth.

PHOENIX 9—INDIANS 2

Scoring nine runs in the first four innings, the Phoenix Coyotes maintained their lead and won 9 to 2 over the Phoenix Braves at the Indian School, Wednesday, May 3.

Twitchell smashed out two home runs on two successive trips to the plate. Romero, Coyote catcher, accounted for three hits in his turns at bat, two of these hits being three-baggers. Twitchell, Phoenix pitcher, failed to strike out one man.

Errorless support by the Coyote players stopped most of the Braves on first.

The Indians scored their two runs during the second and seventh innings.

PHOENIX 7—GLENDALE 6

PHOENIX defeated Glendale 7 to 6, in a game that went an extra inning to decide the Valley baseball title, Friday, May 5, at Glendale.

Swihart, Glendale hurler, allowed five runs during the first two innings but tightened up and allowed only one run until the extra inning. Esmay let the Cardinal runs cross the Coyote plate during the first, fourth, and fifth innings.

This game decided the Valley baseball title. Glendale and Phoenix won the right to play for the title by going through the entire season undefeated by a conference team.

Glitsos made a home run in the first inning, and Slagle knocked out three hits.

SEASON SUMMARY

PHOENIX went through the 1933 baseball season without a defeat and won the Valley baseball title when they beat Glendale 7 to 6.

The team started the season by playing Peoria, whom they defeated with ease. The rest of the games were comparably easy wins, with the exception of Glendale. This game was the hardest of the season, and the winning of it meant the Valley title.

Next year Coach McComb will have plenty of material for his team since only three veterans are graduating this year.

Although until the past few years dates have been grown only in limited quantities in Arizona, scientists tell us that the state has what is probably the largest and best date producing region in the world. At present 80,000 pounds are raised annually, but there is still much room for expansion.

Many varieties of dates have been imported here from the old world, and through numerous experiments it has been possible to determine the types best suited to the climatic conditions of Arizona.

Because of the number of years required for date palms to yield enough of a crop to assure a profit, people who plant large orchards of these picturesque trees must be backed by ample capital. Although this fact accounts for the small number of large orchards in the state, it has failed to hamper plantings of one or two trees in the yards of many Arizona residents. It is a common sight, as one drives along streets or highways, to see two or three hundred pounds of the fruit hanging in four or five large bunches from the main stalk of each of the palm trees which appear near hundreds of homes throughout the state.

YELL LEADERS

LEADING the cheering sections in yells at all athletic events when the Coyotes compete with other teams is the duty of the yell leaders. Besides doing their work at athletic events, they assist in assemblies, call for cheers in parades, and help in putting over class picnics and Senior Ditch day.

George Schoettner was elected senior cheer leader by the student body this year. His assistants, also elected, are Charles Rawson and Ralph Harrell, junior yell leaders. This squad of yell leaders led the cheering in some out of town games last season.

The junior yell leaders put on acrobatic stunts at the stadium during the football season to pep up the cheers.

It has been the general practice to elect the senior leader from the two junior yell leaders, so Rawson or Harrell will probably be the varsity yell leader next year.

A school letter is earned by the senior yell leader, and numerals are awarded to the junior leaders. The yell leader wears a white sweater instead of the black sweater worn by the lettermen.

TENNIS

BILL GRAGG, captain of the 1933 tennis team was taken sick with scarlet fever in the early part of the season and was unable to play the remainder of the year. The loss of Bill was a great handicap to the squad, as he was a consistent match winner.

Besides Gragg, Bobby Kennedy was the only returning veteran this year. He showed marked improvement over last year's playing. Bobby is graduating this year, and his loss will be greatly felt by next year's team.

James Canning, last year's letterman, gave up tennis to play on the baseball team and participated in too few matches to earn a letter.

Joe Yoshimura, Darrell Hudlow, and Charles Melczer, playing for the first year on the squad, acquitted themselves creditably in all matches played. Next year these men should form the backbone of the team which promises to be one of the best in the history of the school.

PHOENIX 3—TEMPE TEACHERS' COLLEGE 11

On January 14, the Coyote tennis team stepped out of its class to play the Tempe Teachers at Tempe in a dual match in which they were defeated 11 to 3.

The only Phoenix players who won in the singles were Gragg, who defeated Hildreth of Tempe, and Porter, who defeated Lewis of Tempe. The scores were 6-3, 6-2, and 3-6, 6-4, 9-7, respectively.

Kennedy and Gragg playing together in the doubles were able to defeat Johnson and Paddock of Tempe 2-6, 6-4, 6-4. The other double matches went to Tempe by easy scores.

PHOENIX 9—MIAMI 5

In Conjunction with the Girls' Tennis team, Phoenix defeated the Miami teams 9 to 5 on the Phoenix courts Saturday, April 8.

STATE TOURNAMENT

The State Tennis tournament was held Saturday, April 29, at Tucson, and Mr. Ralph Fields took a six man squad to represent Phoenix Union high school in the state meet.

BASEBALL WINNING TEAM

INTRAMURAL SPORTS

INTRAMURAL SPORTS were organized by Coach R. R. Robinson to offer chances to students, who are not eligible or capable of making school teams, to participate in athletics in P. U. H. S.

All of the teams are run on a home room basis with the exception of football. Captains are picked from a group of boys reporting for intramural football, and these captains choose their teams.

In basketball each home room is represented by a team. These teams play only the other teams in their respective classes. After the class champions are picked they play a round robin tournament to decide the school champions.

The indoor baseball and track schedules are arranged in the same manner as the basketball. Indoor ball is played instead of hard ball for the lack of accommodations. All athletic equipment is purchased from the athletic fund, which is derived from football and basketball gate receipts.

All teams are sponsored by faculty members who give their time to help boys participate in all the sports. The greater number of advisers are men, but some of the women teachers also take great interest in these sports.

FOOTBALL WINNING TEAM

TRACK WINNING TEAM

Woodrow Wilson's team won the school championship in intramural football. This is the second year that he has piloted a winning football team. There were seven other teams participating in this year's schedule. Mr. N. D. Marker and Mr. Gunnar Anderson have charge of the teams and referee the games.

Basketball season came to an end with Mr. L. L. Blackshare's freshmen group winning both the freshmen and school championships. The senior title was won by Mr. H. L. Crockett's group. Junior and sophomore winning teams were Mrs. Kathryn Munson's and Mr. Fred Goodwin's respectively.

Winning teams in indoor baseball were as follows: seniors, Mr. J. C. Hay's group; juniors, Mr. Ralph Field's group; sophomore, Mr. Milor's group; and the freshmen title was won by Mr. Blackshare's group. The school title was won by Mr. Ralph Field's group.

Track championships were won by Mr. Lloyd Elliot's seniors, Mrs. Kathryn Munson's juniors, Mr. J. H. Milor's sophomores, and Mr. L. L. Blackshare's groups respectively. The school title was won by Mr. Elliot's group.

Mr. Elliot's group won over the other contesting groups with great ease being only pushed in one or two events in the senior class.

Until recently Arizona produced only enough grapefruit to supply the local demand. During this period, however, certain facts were established which promise a brilliant future for grapefruit in this state.

There are 20,000 acres of bearing citrus fruit in Arizona, of which a little more than half are planted in grapefruit. From the bloom of the spring of 1929, 450 carloads were shipped out of the state, 35 of which went to Europe.

The Arizona fruit is noted for its sweetness, and since it can be eaten without sugar, it is always in demand everywhere. In northern states and even abroad the statement, "It's Arizona grapefruit," commands the highest prices and guarantees the finest fruits.

The future of this Arizona industry can be limited by nothing but the world's demand for grapefruit since numberless acres of level fertile land stretch off to the mountains awaiting only the coming of water. And even the present system of dams can easily irrigate an additional 250,000 acres.

GIRLS' ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

THE GIRLS ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION, sponsored by Mrs. Ruth Hetherington, forms a club, members of which take part in athletics. All girls interested in athletics are eligible and may join the association at any time.

Interest in girls' athletics was stimulated this year by a change in the G.A.A. point system, and the membership now numbers about one hundred and thirty.

Fifty points are given for attendance, 75 points for a position on the class team, and 100 points for a position on the all-star team.

VOLLEYBALL

GIRLS' VOLLEYBALL got off to a fast start, and 125 girls turned out at the beginning of the season, arousing much interest and enthusiasm. The sophomores and seniors played on Monday and Wednesday after school, and the freshmen and juniors played on Tuesday and Thursday.

After four weeks of practice, a tournament to determine the champion team was played. The juniors and seniors defeated the freshmen and sophomores. A game was then played between the juniors and seniors with the juniors emerging the winners with the score 20 to 18.

Members of the all-star team are chosen because of their ability and sportsmanship.

TUMBLING

TUMBLING, as the first after-school sport of the year, was received with much enthusiasm and interest, and more than 100 girls appeared for the first practice.

Coached by Mrs. Violet Dummell, the girls learned to do pyramids, chest stands, barrel rolls, stomach balances, rocking stunts, and jump through the stick.

The team gave exhibitions between the halves of the Phoenix-San Diego football game and also in the Educational Pageant.

Practices were held in the high school gymnasium every Tuesday and Thursday.

The class was divided into three teams; first, the all-star team; second, the class team; third, the attendance team.

The all-star team is made up of girls who have shown unusual ability in tumbling and have attended two-thirds of the practices. The class teams consist of girls from their respective classes who are not quite capable of making the all-star team but who have more than the required attendance. The attendance team is made up of girls who have the required attendance but who do not have enough points for a class team.

Members of the all-star team are Elizabeth Rose, Louise Miller, Edna Stockton, Ethel Brooks, Carrie Mahan, and Mildred Toney.

Those girls who received honorable mention are Joy Mieger, Alta Mae Wolff, Jane Nafziger, Barbara Wilkinson, Alma Bowers, Ruth Lister, Velma Traylor, and Althea Rogers.

GIRLS' ALL-STAR BASKETBALL TEAM

BASKETBALL

With a Turnout of over 100 girls, basketball proved to be a popular sport with the girls. Practices were fast and furious as each class tried to out-do the others. Competition was keen, and at the end of six weeks of intensive practice a tournament was held among the four classes.

The seniors proved their supremacy by defeating the juniors in a hotly contested battle with the score 25 to 17. The senior team placed five girls on the all-star team, the juniors one, and the sophomores three.

Members of the all-star team were Halberta Hiner, Patience Tribolet, Anita Cooper, Dorothy Atkinson, Mildred Toney, Velma Traylor, Alta Mae Wolff, Louise Miller, and Nathalie Colvocoresses.

The senior team was made up of Mildred Toney, Nat Colvocoresses, Halberta Hiner, Dorothy Atkinson, Patience Tribolet, Charlotte Terry, and Nathel Stapley.

The junior team consisted of Lucy Rodriquez, Jean Cameron, Anita Cooper, Ruth Lister, Louise Miller, Irmella Navarre.

Members of the sophomore team were Elizabeth Rose, Velma Traylor, Barbara Wilkinson, Virginia Dugal, Ruth Adele Stern, Alta Mae Wolff, Iola Haun, Dorothy Mudersbach, and Imogene Snedden.

The freshman team was made up of Virginia Kidwell, Evelyn Bolin, Cecilia Richards, Frances Finney, Lois Traub, and Jane Eckenstein.

The teams were coached by Miss R. L. Scott and Miss Elizabeth Jack.

BASEBALL

CONCLUDING a successful year, girls' after-school sports were brought to an end with the play-off of the baseball finals, and the juniors proved their superiority by winning the championship.

Practices were held for five weeks on the field behind the stadium, and the sixth week the finals were played. There was no senior team, as not enough seniors attended practices to make a team. Four juniors, four sophomores, and two freshmen made the all-star team.

Those girls who made this team were Louise Miller, Ruth Lister Elizabeth Rose, Iola Haun, Veoma Flake, Lucy Rodriquez, Virginia Dugal, Carrie Mahan, Cecilia Richards, and Sophie Beginis.

Members of the junior team were Lucy Rodriquez, Dorothy Lane, Veoma Flake, Louise Miller, Ruth Lister, Edna Stockton, Jean Cameron, Sara Rhue, Sue Navarre. Members of the sophomore team were Inez Traylor, Velma Traylor, Virginia Dugal, Elizabeth Rose, Carrie Mahan, Altha Mae Wolff, Nellie Booth, Ida Swain, and Iola Haun. The freshman team consisted of Frances Finney, Cecilia Richards, Juanita Pollard, Lois Traub, Lenore Peart, Helen Johnson, Mary Jones, Agnes Larson, Sophie Beginis, Jane Eckenstein.

The teams were coached by Miss Elizabeth Jack and Miss R. L. Scott, and practices were held every day except Friday.

The senior girls did not seem to be very enthusiastic over baseball, but it is hoped that next year the other classes will continue to be as well represented as they were this year. Owing to the fact that it is the last after-school sport of the year, it is remarkable to find that there are approximately the same number of girls who attend baseball practices as turn out for other sports.

TENNIS

PHOENIX HIGH SCHOOL tennis teams were slowed up this year because of the so-called depression, there being no matches played with out-of-town teams.

Members of the girls' tennis team were Mildred Toney, Elizabeth Rose, Anita Cooper, Evelyn Tomlinson, and Nathalie Colvocoresses.

Mildred Toney has been a member of the team for four years. She has taken part in the tennis tournaments which are held at Tucson during University Week and also in many other out-of-town tournaments.

Evelyn Tomlinson is following in the footsteps of her sister, Catherine, who was also a fine tennis player. Evelyn has been active in tennis throughout her four years of high school.

Elizabeth Rose, although only a sophomore, shows promise of developing into an excellent tennis player. She serves a fast hard ball and gives her competitors plenty to worry about.

Another up and coming young player is Anita Cooper, a junior, who has furnished some stiff competition to those who have played with her.

Nathalie Colvocoresses, a senior, has played in matches with out-of-town and also local teams. Last year she was manager of the team.

Besides these girls on the team there is a group known as the Girls' Tennis club. This group is made up of girls who are interested in learning the game or who wish to improve their playing. There is a tennis ladder, and a girl must challenge the first girl above her on the ladder; if defeated she cannot challenge again until someone has challenged her and she wins.

The team and club are both under the direction of Mrs. Violet Dummel.

Although plantings of grapefruit during the past two or three years have been heavier than of any other citrus fruit, most of the acreage not in grapefruit is planted in navel and valencia oranges. Various experimental farms throughout Arizona have worked to produce an orange suitable to the climate and have accomplished their aim.

This state claims a leading place in the quality and quantity of oranges raised inside its borders. Arizona oranges are large, juicy, and sweet, thus making them in demand everywhere. Most of this fruit is grown in Maricopa county, and total acreage now planted in Arizona is approximately 10,000 acres.

Aside from their commercial uses orange trees are often used for decorative purposes, and the romantic fragrance from the orchards when the trees are in bloom adds almost as much to the beauty of the country as the fruit itself adds to the capital of Arizona.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

The Lettermen assume the task
Of bossing all the work.
They think a letter spells exception,
So all their tasks they shirk.

They cuss and swear and reprimand
If a worker fails in duties.
Instead of helping all they can,
They flirt with passing beauties.

To Members of the Class of 1933

You carry with you into your respective futures, whether it be higher education, a business career or domesticity, our sincere good wishes.

The intoxicating rhythm
Of the Phoenix high school band,
Does its bit to help along

Whenever they are near it—
For when they occupy their minds,
They scarcely even hear it.

Choosing a bank to do business with is important to young people—tomorrow's businessmen and business women.

The young man or woman who opens a savings account and adds to its regularly, who consults the bank about his plans for entering business, who wins and keeps the confidence of the bank, has gained a valuable ally.

Accounts of young men and women are invited.

Reputation is Valuable

A good reputation is one of the most valuable business assets you can have. Other things being equal, the man of unquestioned reputation can get accommodations more quickly and with less red tape at his bank than the man whose reputation is somewhat doubtful.

A man who has properly established relations with his bank and has the reputation for always making his word good has a big edge over the other fellow in making a success of his business.

One of the most wonderful irrigation systems in the world is located in Arizona. A chain of dams, headed by Roosevelt dam, brings the water down into the Salt River valley, Arizona's most fertile agricultural region. These dams are not only mainly responsible for the wealth of central and southern Arizona, but they also add much to the beautiful scenery of that section of the country with their cliff lined lakes and streams of water reaching back miles through desert washes and narrow mountain canyons. The lakes formed by this chain of dams have been stocked with fish, and excellent fishing is afforded the residents of the state.

Two important sources of Arizona's wealth which cannot be directly attributed to irrigation, but which are so important they should be mentioned here, are its pine forests and many copper mines. Arizona leads all states in the production of copper in normal times and has the largest expanse of yellow pine forests in the United States.
